Truman-McMath
Conspiracy Now
Is Out in Open
Today's Quotation
All the arms of England will not arm fear.

Whenever an editor takes a stand in an election the candidate with the signed tail-feathers promptly retorts: "The newspapers are trying to run the country." But here's the other side of the story:

Back in 1942 the voters of Arkansas overrode the state political machine and elected John L. McClellan United States senator. Locally this editor had a considerable role in McClellan's victory (we took a beating with McClellan earlier in 1938), and time confirmed our judgment, for he went on to become a great and independent voice in the senate.

This, however, brought him in collision at times with the late President F. D. Roosevelt and the current President, Harry S. Truman. Our Presidents of recent years have been men who brooked no opposition — when it did appear they used every political weapon at their command to remove it.

Senator McClellan has been a stalwart in the Washington battle against President Truman and the encroachment of his federalists on the rights of the states and their people. He has offended President Truman deeply — how deeply I did not know until events of the last week or two.

You will recall the numerous visits of Governor Sid McMath to the White House. And you supposed, as I did, that the governor was going there voluntarily to seek favors.
But you and I were wrong. Mc-Math didn't merely go — he was summoned. And he wasn't seeking a favor — he was getting instructions to do a job . . . on McClellan.

Yesterday the Democratic State Committee, which Governor Mc-Math controls, ruled that Senator McClellan is to be robbed of the historic privilege of senators and congressmen to attend the National Democratic Convention as members of their home state's delegation.

In order to rationalize its action the committee stated that none of the senators or congressmen, nor Governor McMath himself, would be included — but this is mere window-dressing for a conspiracy.

Technically the Arkansas delegation is going to Chicago, July 21 with instructions to vote for our other senator, W. W. (Bill) Fulbright, for presidential nominee — but, as everyone knows, this is only a first-round courtesy. When balloting is begun in earnest the Arkansas delegation will be controlled by Governor McMath's voice and Harry S. Truman's words — with our own senior senator specifically excluded.

Obviously it is true what the political gossips are saying: That the arrangement between the Little Rock-Washington Axis is for Mc-Math to help Truman name the national party leader in 1952 and the national party in return will help McMath to a third term as governor now and beat John Mc-Clellan for the United States Senate seat in 1954.

What do you have to say about a situation where we are running a campaign for governor but the real issue is the United States Senate?

Do the people of Arkansas stand by the senator of their own choosing, or do they let the Little Rock-Washington Axis destroy him and put a politician's choice in his place?

The politicians talk about newspapers.
But how can newspapers help but talk about politicians? If we didn't it wouldn't be long before your individual vote would be worthless.

U. S. Casualties Climb to 109,712

Washington, June 11 (AP) — Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 109,712 today, an increase of 553 since last week.

This was the greatest rise reported for any week since last Dec. 12. It reflected the heavier fighting recently. Most of the additional casualties were suffered by the Army and the Marines.

It is estimated that insects each year destroy enough U. S. wheat to fill the wheat needs of 16 million people.

Invoke TH Law, Senate Vote Tells Truman

Washington, June 11 (AP) The Senate today told President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act in the steel crisis, today rejected another move to give him the plant seizure powers he asked.

Some government officials were of the opinion the Senate stand would virtually force Truman to turn to the Taft Law, which he dislikes, in an effort to end the strike of 650,000 CIO Steelworkers.

There was no sign, however, the administration contemplated any imminent action.

Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) offered the new seizure proposal in the Senate. It was lapped down 54 to 26.
Morse argued that the Taft-Hartley Law, which permits anti-strike injunctions, would not assure production of steel.

"Americans have been deluded into a conclusion that there is something about Taft-Hartley that would keep steel production going," Morse told the Senate, and added:
"It just ain't so."

To invoke Taft-Hartley now, Morse said, would put the government "on the side of the employers."

Washington, June 11 (AP) — Top government officials said today President Truman probably will turn now to the Taft-Hartley Law, which he loathes, in an effort to get the steel mills back into production.

The Senate, unmoved by Truman's personal appeal for special seizure powers, held firmly against any alternative other than Taft-Hartley.

"The issue for peace or war hangs in the balance and steel is a vital element in the outcome," Truman told a hastily-arranged joint meeting of Senate and House yesterday after the sudden collapse of industry-union negotiations.

After hearing him, late Republican and southern Democratic senators joined forces to write into the anti-inflation Defense Production Act an official "request" that Truman invoke at once the labor relations law he had just denounced as "unfair, harmful and futile."

struction course at Lackland

Democratic Party, Dominated by McMath's Friends, Acts to Bar McClellan as Delegate

By The Associated Press

Neither Gov. Sid McMath, titular head of the Democratic party in Arkansas, nor any member of the state's congressional delegation will be a delegate to the party's presidential convention, the Arkansas Gazette said today (Wednesday).

The newspaper said that it had learned of this departure from tradition last night from a source close to the Democratic State Committee. The state committee will choose Arkansas' delegates in Little Rock Friday.

Most observers expect Sen. J.
William Fulbright and possibly two or three of the five unopposed congressmen to be included. But it is a foregone conclusion that even Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) a political foe of the governor — will not be a member of the delegation. Mc-Math's friends form an overwhelming majority of the state committee.

The Gazette said it learned that the committee also will: (1) vote not to refund any ballot fees of unopposed or withdrawn candidates in the summer primaries; (2) appoint a group of its own members to arrange for the state Democratic convention; and (3) give the respective county committees the responsibility of determining whether titles and nicknames of candidates are to appear on the ballot.

Meanwhile, the race for the party's gubernatorial nomination began to pick up speed.

Two of the five candidates for the nomination, Little Rock Attorney Jack Holt and Gov. McMath (who's seeking a third term), announced the dates for the formal opening of their campaigns.

Holt said he would officially begin his second bid for the office in MacArthur Park at Little Rock June 21. Henry Woods, campaign manager for the governor, confirmed previous reports that the governor would hit the stump in Pine Bluff's baseball park June 28.

Holt also announced that his drive headquarters in Little Rock would be opened Saturday. A county rally for the Harrison native will be held by his supporters in Searcy Saturday night.

The other three candidates — Atty. Gen. Ike Murry, Judge Francis Cherry of Jonesboro, and Rep.
Boyd Tackett of Nashville — also pushed their campaigns.

Murry unlocked the door to his Little Rock headquarters; Judge Cherry conferred with West Arkansas supporters in Ft. Smith today (Wednesday) and Tackett prepared to move into Eastern Arkansas, including Cherry's hometown of Jonesboro.

U. S. Jets Get Three Enemy Planes

Seoul, Korea, June 11 (UP) —

Fifth Air Force Sabrejets, outnumbered more than two to one, shot down three Communist MIG-15s today as Reds stepped up the tempo of attacks in the air and on the ground.

Twelve Sabres ripped into a flight of 25 MIGs at dusk near Sinuiju in far northwest Korea.
2nd Lt. James F. Low, Sausalito, Calif., bagged two and 1st Lt. Albert B. Smiley, Albany, Ga., got the other.

Smiley has destroyed three. He is the son of Mrs. Cliff W. Smiley, Van Nuys, Calif. His wife lives at Albany.

Communist ground forces threw a strong attack at United Nations lines along the classic invasion route to Seoul.

A battalion of Reds — approximately 750 — attacked behind a 4,000-round artillery barrage near Chorwon, almost directly north of Seoul. The attack, the third in the same area in three days, was thrown back after a three-hour fight.

Those Weekend Guests, and There Are Many, Are Thistles in a Summer Paradise

By HAL BOYLE

New York, June 11 (P) — Weekend guests are the thistles in many a summer paradise.

People who own a small place in the country love to trade horror tales about the weird guests that descend upon them from the city in quest of tax-free entertainment.

"They often speak of these visitors as if they were a ravenous locust plague. The average weekend guest is pictured as a man who:

(A) Leaves his footprints on the bathtub and walls;
(B) Tries to kiss the host's wife behind his back;
(C) Keeps tramping on his host's children, and not always accidentally;

(D) Laps up the host's entire monthly liquor supply, then makes long distance calls to friends in London and Paris, leaving the charges for his host to pay.

Hempstead Co. Hospital Plans Are Advanced

Here are the latest developments on the Hempstead County Hospital project:

1. The new public hospital board, appointed last month by County Judge C. Cook, held its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and decided to consult an architect.

2. It was disclosed that the 3-mill hospital tax authorized by the voters two years ago is accumulating about $25,000 a year and there will be $50,000 in this fund by fall.

3. The hospital board's attorney, Albert Graves, will probably file a friendly suit in chancery court and obtain an Arkansas Supreme Court decision on whether the 1950 election authorization of a federal-aid hospital project will also cover the present proposal to build with 100-per-cent county funds.

Should the supreme court decision be adverse there would still be time to run the all-county proposal back through an other general election this November, clearing the way for the bond-issuance and construction.

Tuesday's first meeting of the new hospital board was presided over by Chairman Roy Anderson in the office of Albert Graves. Other members of the board are:
Lloyd Spencer, Robert M. La-Grone, Dr. Jim McKenzic, and Mrs. Florence Wingfield.

The board reviewed the project's present legal position, and the accumulation of tax funds, and decided it was time to make preliminary arrangements with some architect. It is considered likely the project will reach the construction stage by late fall or winter.

Although federal aid has its advantages the board pointed out that construction costs are lower when planning and construction and payment are handled entirely locally. The initial cost of the county hospital will be further reduced by the donation of much technical equipment from Josephine and Julia Chester hospitals.

The legal problem is this:
Two years ago Hempstead county voters made a general authorization to build a public hospital costing about $900,000, with such federal aid as might be available, and of 80-bed capacity, expandable to 160. Today there is no immediate prospect of federal aid.

In order to market the hospital bond satisfactorily it will be necessary to have either, (1) An Arkansas Supreme Court decision asserting that the 1950 election specifically authorizes construction without any federal aid and permits use of the $50,000 hospital tax already collected, or (2) A new authorization in the 1952 general election this November.

House Group Votes to Extend Controls, Parity on Six Basic Farm Crops

Hoffman Says Taft Trying to Storm Way in

New York, June 11 (AP) — One of the top advisers in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination said today that selection of Gen.
Douglas MacArthur as GOP keynote was an attempt to steamroll the convention for Sen. Robert A.
Taft.

This complaint against the arrangements committee for the party's national convention came from Paul V. Hoffman, chairman of the advisory committee of citizens for Eisenhower.

He said MacArthur's selection as keynote was a "pro-Taft" attempt "to get the old steamroller in motion."

Talking with reporters after an hour-long conference with Eisenhower this morning, Hoffman said:
"The nomination should not be decided by machine tactics. We knew the arrangements committee was pro-Taft. I'm surprised they did not give the keynote to Taft himself."

Sen. Robert Taft's forces today held the controls, throttle and brakes of the Republican convention machinery — an omen of a possibly bitter and fighting over disputed delegations.

Here was the lineup, adopted by the convention arrangements committee at its final meeting in Chicago yesterday:

Keynote speaker — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, a supporter of Taft and a critic of Taft's chief rival for the GOP presidential nomination, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Temporary chairman — Walter S. Hallinan of West Virginia, another Taft booster.

Platform committee chairman — Sen. Eugene Millikin of Colorado, for Taft ally.

The fourth day post, permanent chairman, went to Rep. Joseph W.
Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who has not taken sides in the Taft-Eisenhower rivalry but has spoken well of MacArthur.

The Taft camp called the signals when the arrangements committee put together the men and the jobs for the July 7 convention at Chicago. It was notice that the Ohioan, whose offer to compromise on contested delegations in the South was rejected by Eisenhower campaigners, was ready for a no-quarter battle.

Local Soldier Promoted to Warrant Officer

Air Force Master Sergeant Thomas W. Greenlee, son of Mrs. A. F.
Greenlee, 408 N. McRae street, has been appointed a warrant officer junior grade at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Tucson, Arizona.

Warrant Officer Greenlee came to Davis-Monthan, a southwestern installation of the Strategic Air Command, in November 1946, and was assigned to the 43rd Motor Vehicle Squadron motor pool section.
Today, he heads that same section as motor pool superintendent.

Greenlee, who graduated from Hope High School in June 1938, entered the Armed Forces in October 1940 as a member of the old Army Air Corps. For his first three years in service he was assigned to various California bases. In October 1943 he was sent to the Pacific Theater of War where he remained until October 1945.

Among his ribbons for military service, Warrant Officer Greenlee wears the Commendation Medal and also the Asiatic-Pacific campaign medal with five bronze battle stars.
He received the Armed Forces Good Conduct Medal, the Pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon and the World War II Victory Medal.

The 35 year old warrant officer now resides in Tucson, with his wife, the former Eva C. Rottmiller of that city. The Greenlees have two daughters, Connie, aged six, and Caroline, aged 9.

Texarkana Willing to Build College For Negroes

Texarkana, Tex., June 11 (AP) —
The Board of Trustees of Texarkana College is willing to build a college for Negroes here providing a suit against the school's segregation policies is dropped.

Dr. H. W. Stillwell, president of the school, said yesterday, however that this compromise proposal had been rejected. The school has been sued in federal court by a group of Negro students seeking admission to the college. They charge that the college is violating the U. S. Constitution by denying them educational facilities equal to those of white students.

Dr. Stillwell said the trustees offered to "erect a college equal in every respect to the new one to be erected for white students."

But he said that John J. Jones, Texas chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told him there could not be equal facilities unless Negro students were permitted to enter the college.

No Additional Troops Called for in Treaty

Washington, June 11 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson testified today the treaties to bring Western Germany into the anti-Communist military alliance do not in any way add to the President's powers to send American troops abroad.

However, he stated to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee his previous view that the President has such authority when the dispatch of the troops would advance the security of the United States.

The question was raised by Sen.
Hickenlooper (R-Ia.) who said it was of "vital concern to the American people."

Acheson was testifying for the second day on the two documents which he is urging the Senate to approve quickly as a spur to similar action by Allies abroad.

One is a peace contract between the United States, Britain, France and Western Germany. The other is a protocol in which Western Germany assumes the obligations of a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Acheson also testified specifically the United States has made no commitments to send American troops to aid the French fighting Communists in Indochina.

Body Armor May Be Used in Korea

Chicago, June 11 (AP) — Body armor looks good for helping American fighting men in Korea, the American Medical Association was told today by an Army doctor.

Lieut. Col. Robert Holmes, secretary of the American Medical Association's "Army Medical Corps," said that body armor, made of compressed fiberglass and nylon, has been under test by the Marines and the Army as possible protection against small-arms and shell-fragment fire.

"Results of the present trials are restricted secret data, but it can be said that thus far indications are encouraging," Col. Holmes, of the Army Medical Corps, declared in a report to the AMA's annual meeting.

"It appears," he added, "that body armor will provide another means of preventive medicine for the armed forces and will contribute to the total medical effort to conserve the fighting strength." Col. Holmes made this report while declaring that enemy losses in Korea — killed and wounded — have been estimated at from 10 to 40 to one.

He said that "this wide difference has existed largely because of superior artillery fire and decisive air coverage" but he added that "such circumstances have the potential of sudden change."

He said that "progress in combat medicine and surgery" has accounted for reducing the death rate among Korean wounded as compared to those of World War II.

Would Replace DPA Laws Which Expire June 30

Washington, June 11 (AP) — The House Banking Committee voted today (1) for a full year's extension of wage, price and rent controls, and (2) for dropping all controls over real estate and consumer credit.

The committee is working on a measure to replace the Defense Production Act, which expires June 30.

Knocking out real estate controls would mean the end of the government's present regulation which gets the required down payment for purchase of new home.
The government eased Regulation X terms earlier this week.

Consumer credit controls, which regulated down payments on automobiles, radios and many other items, were suspended recently.
The House Committee's decision if finally approved by Congress would mean they could not be reimposed.

In other important action, the committee:

1. Stipulated that the support prices for basic agricultural commodities — corn, wheat, cotton, peanuts, tobacco and soybeans — not be less than 80 per cent of parity. Present law allows them to be supported on a sliding scale varying from 75 to 90 per cent.

2. Denied the administration request for restoration of the power to impose livestock slaughter quotas.

Parity, as the term is used, means commodity prices, as a declared by law to be fair to farmers and consumers. It is calculated by a formula taking count of prices of things farmers buy and consequently value changes in those prices.

Members of the House Com-tee were hopeful of completing their bill tomorrow.

A controls extension bill, drafted by the Senate Banking Committee, is now being debated in the Senate. It calls for extending wage, price and credit controls of effect until March 1, 1953.

Cattle Protective Group Holds a Meeting Here

Board of Directors of the District Livestock Protective Association met Tuesday night at the Hope Chamber of Commerce with Roy Fry, Fulton, Bay Nashville, E. L. Cox, Columbia, Wade, Gilbert, Columbia, Temple, Hope, J. L. Leblanc, and President Lloyd Spencer, present.

The meeting was opened by identifying speakers and then tendered their resignation as trustees of the association. The resignation was read and accepted by the board. Then elected Roy Fry, Fulton, as Secretary-Treasurer.

Several matters of importance were discussed and authorized the association to contact the American Cattleman's Association regarding cattlemen's rights. The organization has two representatives on a Federal Cattle Commission and the association will definitely take for early action.

Some plans were discussed regarding membership regulation and the hope that all members pay for the new year and roll. Present plans call for meetings in each plain the program to increase membership.

One of the principal speakers at the 5-day convention is Bishop J. Waskon Pickett of Delhi, India.

Door-to-Door Salesmen May Be Vanishing

By WALTER BREED JR.
For Sam Dawson

New York, June 11 (AP) — Is the door-to-door salesman vanishing from the American scene?
Is the modern descendant of the old Yankee peddler fading into oblivion?

"No," say the companies which depend on these people for distribution of their products. "If anything, their number is increasing."

Proponents of "direct selling," the direct distribution of merchandise from factory to home, profess to see a new opportunity for the time-tested doorbell-pushing technique in the current swing toward a buyers' market.

Time was when a certain segment of retail opinion believed the door-to-door salesman was on the way out — a victim of television. According to this theory, televised demonstrations of consumer products and televised sales talks which could be viewed by the housewife in her home would make the home visits of the door-to-door vendor unnecessary.

Today, however, TV is being used to promote direct selling.

Direct selling is big business. Total volume is estimated by the National Association of Direct Selling Companies at more than 10 billion dollars a year. According to the National Better Business Bureau Inc., with which local better business bureaus across the country are affiliated, more than 6,000 American companies are engaged in direct selling with a total sales force of 1-2 million men and women.

The Electrolex Co., easily the nation's biggest manufacturer of vacuum cleaners, employs 10,000 door-to-door salesmen.

Avon Products Inc., cosmetics manufacturers, had sales last year of more than $35,800,000. Its products are distributed to American homes by 16,000 independent sales representatives, many of them housewives. "We haven't deviated from this system in 66 years," says George K. Graves Jr., Avon vice president.

Then there's the ubiquitous Fuller Brush man, backbone of the huge sales organization of Fuller Brush Co. of Hartford, Conn. A host of other house-to-house vendors peddle everything from lingerie to tailored suits, razor blades to washing machines, kitchenware to sterling silver, seeds to fire extinguishers.

Direct selling has come a long way since the old Yankee peddler sold tinware, clocks, brooms, knives and cloth to frontier families.

Want to give a party? Some companies will send a man to your home with all the fixings for a full-course dinner, including flowers. It doesn't cost you a nickel. All you have to do is invite your friends and let the salesman show them the company's floor wax or furniture polish, pots and pans or plastic aprons. The salesman cooks and serves the meal — and washes the dishes.

A constant headache to the direct selling people is the bad name given their profession by the occasional dishonest salesman, and the consequent enactment of local laws and ordinances which restrict direct selling. Some 20 years ago the town of Green River, Wyo., adopted an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for a person to visit a private home for the purpose of selling merchandise without having been invited. Similar ordinances have since been declared unconstitutional in half a dozen states, unconstitutional in 11 others.

Arkansas Slayer on Trial in Utah

Tooele, Utah, June 10 (AP) — The murder trial against convicted Arkansas slayer Tuck Bishop, alias Carl B. Anderson, opens here today.

Bishop, who failed to return to an Arkansas prison following a Christmas furlough, is charged with the fatal shooting of two bunkhouse companions at Ophir, Utah, on April 5.

He was serving a life sentence in Arkansas for killing four men at Springdale, Ark., when he was granted a Christmas furlough.

Bishop was declared a fugitive when he did not return to prison. He was located through fingerprints, as a suspect in the bunkhouse murder. He identified himself as Carl B. Anderson.

Spots No Sign of Red Buildup in N. Korea

Seoul, Korea, June 10 (AP) — The top United Nations air commander in Korea said today his air spotters have found no sign of a buildup for a Communist offensive in Korea but "if we did we'd go after it."

Maj. Gen. Glen Barcus, new commander of the U. S. Fifth Air Force, told a news conference the U. S. Fifth Air Force knows the Reds have "a lot" of men in North Korea.

"In that type of rough terrain, it's easy to conceal people. They're masters at camouflage and concealment."

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and United Nations headquarters in Tokyo said recently the Reds have built up their forces in North Korea. Churchill called the increase in men, artillery, tanks and jet planes "very grave."

Barcus was asked if his spotters show signs of an all-out Communist ground offensive. He answered: "We haven't been able to see enough from the air to indicate any such thing. We haven't been able to detect any great massing of strength."

If the Reds take the offensive and use their MIG-15 jet fighters for air support, Barcus said, the Fifth Air Force couldn't build an air-high umbrella over the Allied ground forces. "But we'd make it costly for them," he added.

Reds Warned to Get Down to Business

Munsan, Korea, June 10 (AP) — A United Nations spokesman said today Red truce negotiators will have to talk business "without propaganda or the Allies again might recess the tightly deadlocked Korean armistice talks."

Negotiations, 11 months old today, resume tomorrow at Panmunjom at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Tuesday EST) after a three-day recess called by the U. N. Command over Communist protests.

Brig. Gen. William K. Harrison, U. N. Command spokesman, said there is a possibility of another recess "after this respite if the propaganda barrage once again becomes intolerable."

Brith. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied truce negotiator, called the recess Saturday because of "Communist propaganda drive."

Each day since the Reds have sent a liaison officer to the truce site to demand immediate resumption of the talks. The demands were ignored.

The Red high command in a letter to Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations supreme commander, criticized the Allies for their action. The letter, signed by Gen. Kim Il Sung, premier of North Korea, and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai, said:

"If you wish to break up the talks by this tactic, you should do it officially and take full responsibility for it. You should know that what you cannot get on the battlefield you cannot get at the conference site."

Clark's headquarters in Tokyo said his reply would be made public when it is delivered to the Reds presumably at Panmunjom tomorrow.

An armistice is stymied by the prisoner exchange issue.

British Give Up Station Blockade

Berlin, June 10 (AP) — British troops removed their barbed wire barricades from Russia's Radio Berlin headquarters early today, ending a seven-day siege which won several concessions from the Soviets.

The British said they lifted the blockade on the station inside their zone because it had served its purpose. Under its pressure, the Russians loosened their squeeze on West Berlin to the extent of yielding several border areas they had seized.

Allied officials took the view that the siege, if continued too long, might have boomeranged. They felt the Allied-occupied part of this Communist-surrounded city is too vulnerable to invite heavy reprisals for slight gains.

"We must show moderation as well as firmness so as not to bring down further difficulties on Berlin's head," one official commented.

The Communists still held West Berlin in a potential strangle grip that could be turned any time into a new blockade. Zonal borders between East and West Germany, and even streets boundaries between East and West Berlin, have been turned into fortified frontiers.

Spa to Vote on Property Tax

Hot Springs, June 10 (AP) — A proposed 3-1-4 mill property tax will be entered on the November ballot here this year to procure funds for purchase of a city-county hospital.

Mose Hollman, chairman of the hospital committee, said yesterday that the funds would be used to purchase and remodel the former Methodist hospital building and construct a new wing.

DOROTHY DIX Should She Leave Home?

Dear Miss Dix: My girl friend, who will be 18 in a few months, is so fed up with her parents' strictness that she is planning to get a room in town. She isn't allowed to go out or entertain her friends at home. Her family says that they won't keep her from getting the room, but if she doesn't behave they can make her come home. Are they right?

NELLIE D.
Answer: I could never advise a girl to leave home simply because she doesn't like the discipline, unless conditions were really so intolerable that they constituted a mental or physical hazard. Such cases are rare, and can only be judged after extensive investigation. Since I am obviously unable to make such a survey in your friend's case, my general opinion is that she's better off at home. Living alone is not the bed of roses she seems to think it is. If she believes that "a room in town" is the open sesame to unlimited freedom, and proceeds to live according to that theory, she will find herself a saddened creature with a very bad reputation, and may conceivably be turned back to her parents via court order. Your short letter indicates the possibility that she is a girl who needs disciplining and if you are really a friend, don't encourage her to take a step she may regret — too late.

PETRILLO RE-ELECTED

His election today at the union's annual convention will be a mere formality.

Money Presents Requested

Dear Miss Dix: One of my close relatives is getting married to an out-of-town professional man. The invitations have been sent out with a note attached saying, "No souvenir presents." It is understood that they want only money. I find this invitation very embarrassing to give more than they would have spent for a gift. My situation is this: I am married and do not live in the same city. We have not visited in many years and will not attend the wedding. MARCIA G.

Answer: Such a blatant request for money gifts is something new in my experience, although I believe it is a fairly commonplace European custom. Under your particular circumstances, a gift is not necessary, but if you wish to conform to the specified procedure, send the sum you would have spent on a gift, and forget the entire incident.

Dear Miss Dix: Do you know of any respectable clubs in which middle-aged couples can meet and get acquainted? People say that the church is the best place for such contacts, but I have not found it to be the case. MARY G.

Answer: There are many social clubs of high standing fulfilling the function you mention. Of course you know they charge for membership — sometimes quite a bit. Recommendation of any of these clubs is impossible without a thorough investigation, which is a matter of local concern. Clubs which advertise can be verified through your local Better Business Bureau, the clergyman of your church or any other reputable authority.

The clubs themselves can be located through the classified pages of your telephone directory.

Dear Miss Dix: I live in such an isolated spot that I find it very difficult to have dates. A car cannot come closer than a mile from the house. Many of my friends don't even know where I live. I've been meeting my boy friends at my sister's house in town. I'm 17 and a senior in high school. Do you think I should stop dating altogether, or continue to meet friends at my sister's?

EMMALINE N.
Answer: In this highly mechanized age, a one-mile walk is something most young people would hesitate to tackle. It is certainly inadvisable that your inaccessibility would prove a hazard to most dating. Under the circumstances, casual dates would certainly be made at your sister's providing that, after the date, you spend the night with her and don't attempt the walk alone.

If you become serious about any one boy, the situation would undergo a change. A boy who likes you considerably will not be deterred by distance. Don't let false pride keep you from being frank about your living conditions, should you become especially interested in a particular lad.

Dear Miss Dix: As marriage goes, my husband and I get along reasonably well, but I am a little trouble over the financial situation. My husband believes he is a fair and generous man, but occasionally he gives me a little extra money for something, but his usual allowance is only $3.00 for three of us. He has a good salary and our expenses are not having money. When I'm begging for charity, Am I unreasonable in wanting a small allowance?

MRS. A.
Answer: A husband who has that his wife is entitled to nothing above her room and board is directly forgetting his marriage vows in which he promised to care for her. Certainly handing out a meager household allowance while he can well afford more is living up to this promise. Furthermore, if a wife is paid strictly on the basis of work done she would be entitled to a fair share of the family income. Cooking, washing, ironing, shopping, nursing, sitting — all are highly paid jobs today, and the woman who does all this, and more, for her family is certainly entitled to an equal share of its income.

Softball Game at City Park Tonight

"Park Night" will be observed tonight at City park and featuring the program will be a softball game between the Civic Improvement Association and the Negro American Legion. The public is invited.

Robins Resigns, Filagamo Takes Over Ball Team

Raymond Robins, manager of the Legionnaires, resigned today because of business reasons. It was announced by Legion officials.

Robins works in Texarkana and it was too much strain to drive home, then accompany the team on road trips.

Taking over as manager, starting with Wednesday night's game, will be Marty Filagamo, holder and currently third baseman.

A strong team from the Camden Naval plant will make its first appearance here this season, Wednesday night when they take on the Hope Legionnaires at Fair park at 8 o'clock.

This non-league contest makes anyone eligible to play and Gileon will be the starting pitcher and Newton Secret, a Hope native and current hurler in the Texas league may also see action. Gary Anderson will also play with the Legionnaires Wednesday.

The Camden team is composed of several former big league players and is managed by Leroy Schalk, ex-Traveler and Chicago White Sox. Doing the hurling for the visitors will be Norm Lathrop formerly with the Cincinnati Reds. The team is reported to be one of the strongest in semi-pro play in Arkansas.

paradox of an unconstitutional article in the constitution.

I told Mr. Blake that I had bet Aaron Ford, also of Senator Russell's campaign headquarters, $10 to a dollar that Russell would not be the Democratic nominee.

He replied that he was offering to two to one that Russell would be nominated, so long as in line men I told him I hoped he was right, because although I have never met the senator, he is known to me as one of the few genuine gentlemen in American politics.

I am a Republican but if I had a choice between Sen. Russell on the Democratic ticket and Dwight Eisenhower on the Republican, as of now, I would go Democratic again because I simply cannot believe that Chinaboy Luce, the New York Times, the Herald-Tribune and all the mock-Republican Roosevelt idolators, socialists, pro-Communists and fellow-travelers in New York would support him unless they had some hidden reason to believe that he was their man.

Real Republicans will have to study that out and it will be a hard puzzle unless they can find out how the Democrats could have come up with some overt act that explains what they expect to get out of him. On the face of his recent speeches I see no profit or comfort in it for them but most of them are greedy opportunists, without principle or conscience, some of them busted and ready to do anything to renew their faded publicity and make a dollar, whether on television or radio or just on salary as federal commissioners of this or that.

I am afraid they might take charge of Luce. After all, even in his Paris headquarters, he had a Hollywood colonel as one of his aides and, for political advisor, a son-in-law of Alben Barkley who is a partisan Democrat and a State Department man. Not a State Department plant, of course. Just a State Department appointee. If that could happen in SHAPE, where he could pick his own staff, what could the Roosevelt cut do to him in Washington with millions of jobs to dispose of?

Well, I still insist that if the Democrats name a candidate pledged to the civil rights cause and the report of the civil rights committee which was selected by David K. Niles and instigated by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, a Democrat of Russell's convictions ought to get out.
